

Prepare to be part of a legacy

TC graduates become lifelong Columbia Lions.

My classmates have been great motivators for me to do my best. They provide interesting and diverse perspectives both inside and outside of the classroom. I have been able to form professional and personal relationships with folks that I hope will last a lifetime.

—Andrew Flatgard, Higher and Postsecondary Education

Creating a smarter, healthier and more equitable world is what we do. Our alumni build on the knowledge and experience they gained at Teachers College to improve lives around the globe.

Collectively, TC graduates extend the College's legacy and impact in diverse fields. They also bring their insights back to TC in a continuous advancement and creation of new knowledge that informs the work of new generations of TC leaders. As a TC graduate you are not only a member of our Regional & International Alumni Network representing 130 countries and diverse industries, you are also part of the worldwide Columbia University community.
